Number of audio items in content

Audio / Video Tasks · https://publishpress.com/knowledge-base/number-of-audio-items-in-content/

This feature requires the Pro version of the PublishPress Checklists plugin.

With the PublishPress Checklists plugin, you can require a maximum and minimum number of audio items for your WordPress posts.

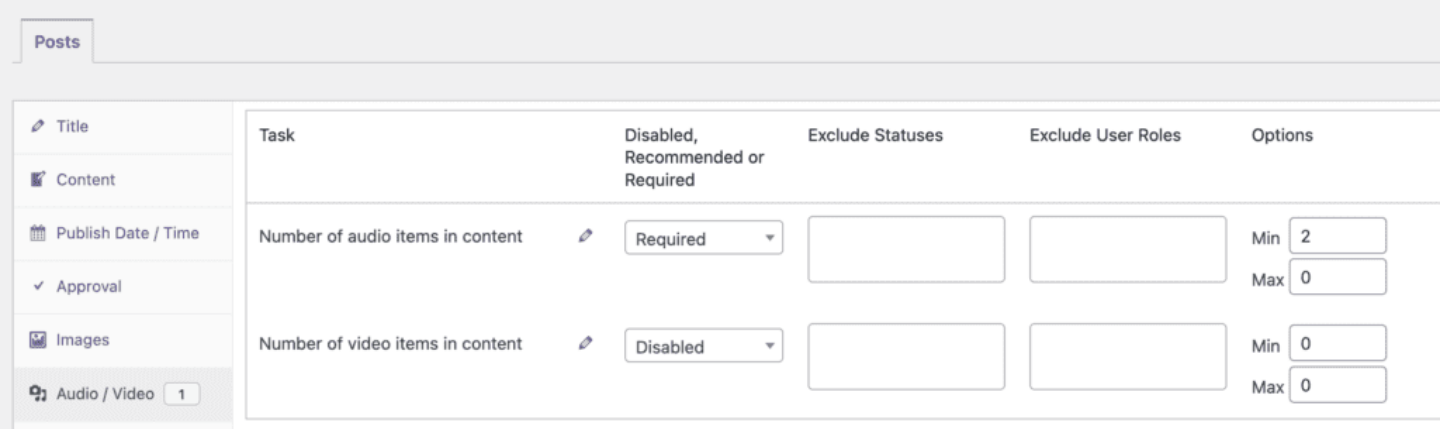

If there's the wrong number of audio items, you can choose to show a warning, or prevent the post from being published.

This task cover a wide range of audio content from self-hosted audio to Spotify, Mixcloud, Soundcloud and PocketCasts. Here are the specifics:

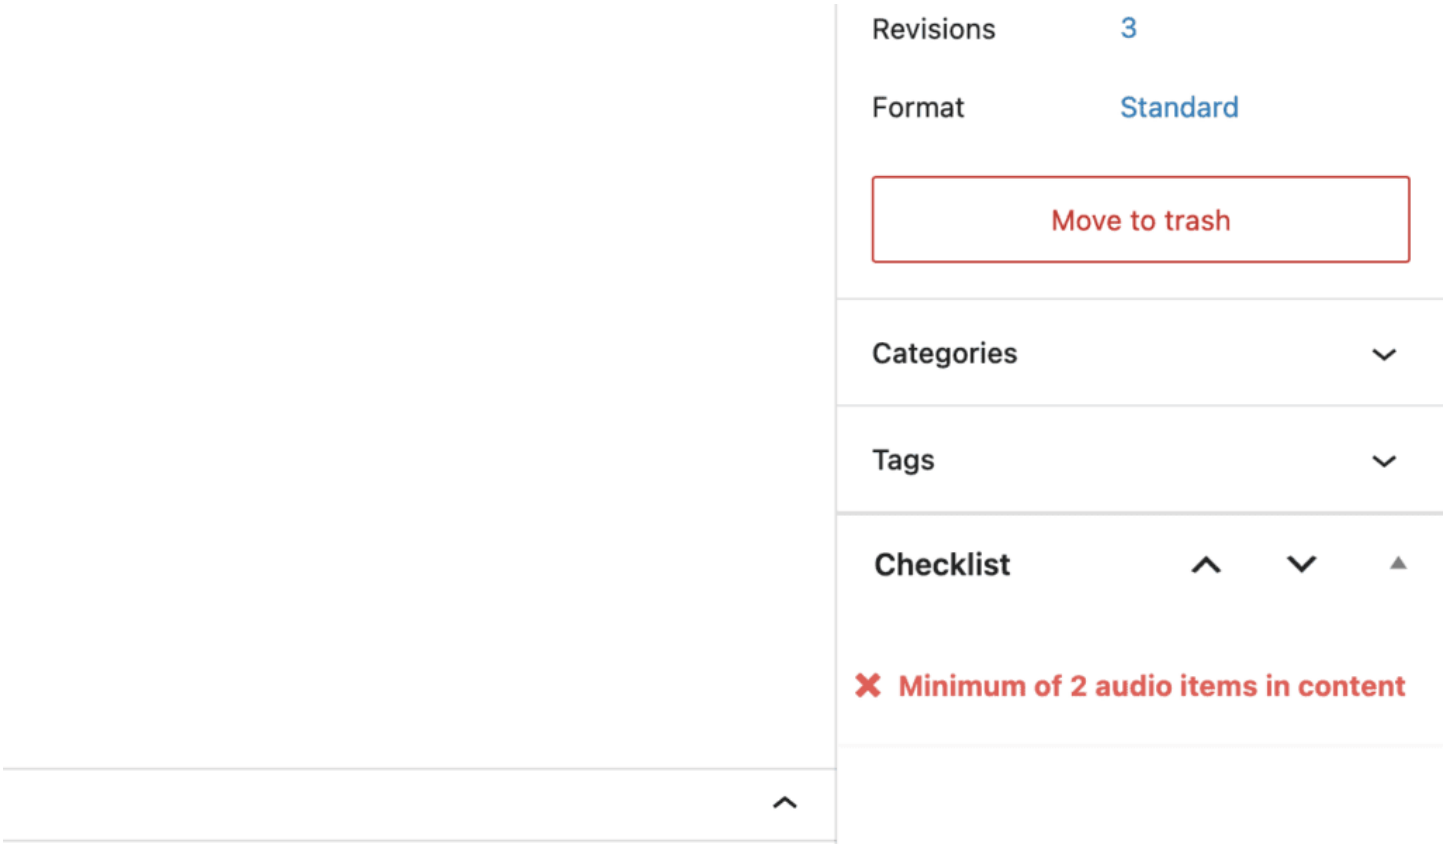

- Counts native HTML players.
- Counts WordPress shortcodes.
- Counts third-party audio embeds such as SoundCloud, Spotify, Mixcloud, and PocketCasts.
- Does not count plain links to audio files by themselves.

In the screenshot below, you can see the options for the "Number of audio items in content" task.

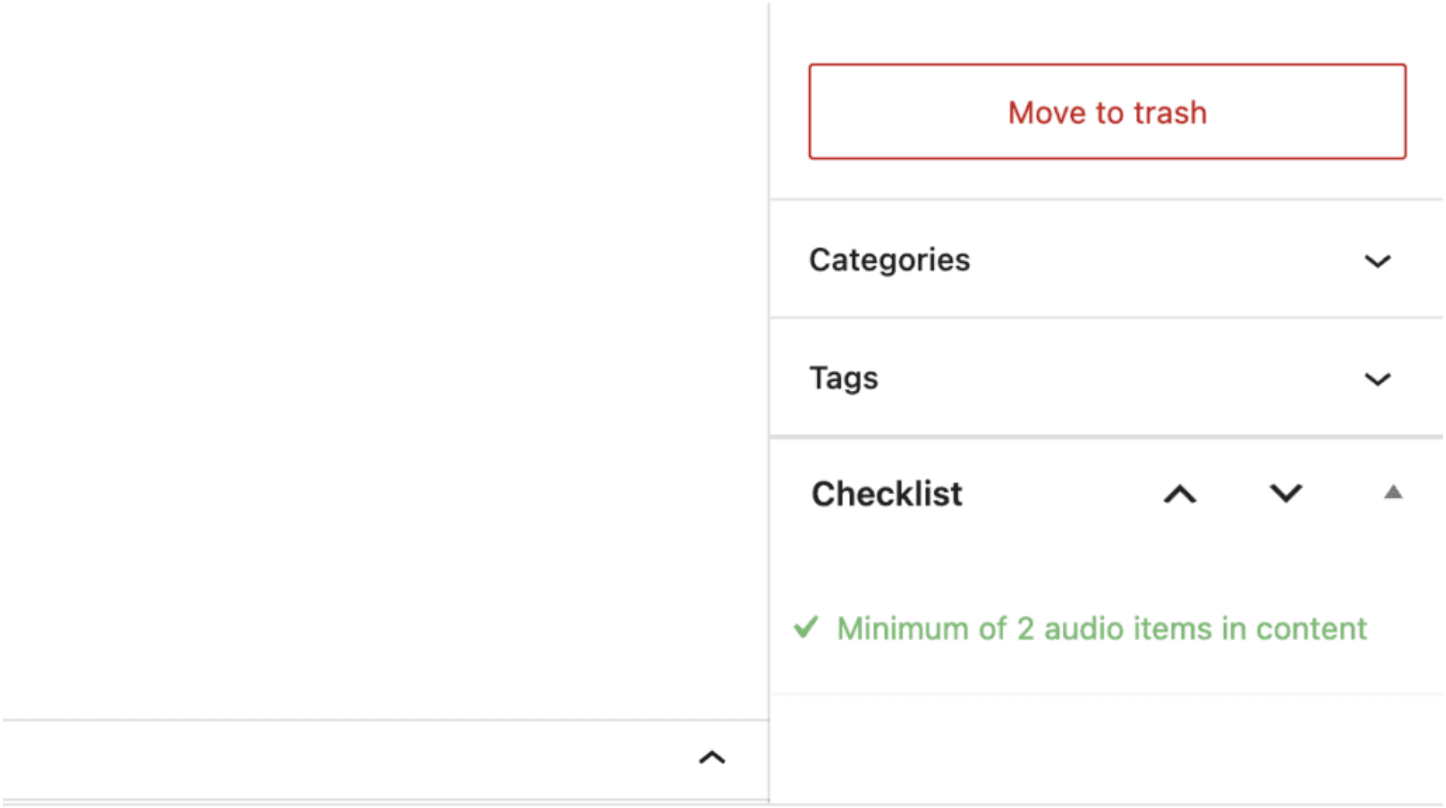

- You can choose from “Disabled, Recommended, or Required” options.
- You can enter choices for “Min” and “Max”.

If you enable this audio task, it will be visible when you edit a post. If you don't have enough audio items, this task will be marked in red in the sidebar.

If you do have the correct number of audio items, this task will be marked in green in the sidebar.
